We here at BCT welcome ideas from visitors; in fact, we thrive on them. So, if you have an idea for a web-based "something" that could conceivably help your ensemble, choir, orchestra, band, quintet, whatever--let us know.

Or possibly you, like our staff, thinks that the goals of BCT match your own, and you'd like to be a part. We'd love to have you on board.

Alternately, perhaps you're another one of those dual-purpose types, with a foot firmly planted in technology and music and not only have a concept, but already have it half-completed, and would like to be associated with BCT as an affiliate, or utilize our clearinghouse-for-musicians concept. (for details on why that might be a good idea, have a gander at our Who We Are page.)

In any of these three cases, drop us a line using one of the links below. We'd be overjoyed to hear from you.
